Wines Paired With Tapas at Club LeConte

Wine Society of East Tennessee has invited City People to join them for a wine tasting event at Club LeConte! Please join us at Club LeConte on Saturday, August 28 at 5:00 P.M. to taste a few wines.

We will have two chilled sparkling wines waiting for you when you arrive. A 2008 Sofia Blanc de Blancs from the California winery of Francis Coppola which is a slightly sweet wine, plus a more dry wine, a Cava from Spain, Segura Viudas Brut Reserve.

Following the aperitif, we will taste nine more wines; three white organic wines; three French wines and three Spanish wines. These wines will be served in flights of three and will be paired with Tapas prepared by Chef Joe Ward of Club LeConte to complement each flight.

Tasting notes will be available for your convenience and all wines were selected with the assistance of Laura Anderson from Harvest Towne Wines.

The tasting begins at 5:00 P.M., so if you have plans for later on Saturday night, please be sure to join us first. We believe this will be an excellent beginning to your evening. Also, parking is bargain priced at $1.00 for those leaving the building after 5:00 P.M.

City People members are invited at $45 per person.

Go to www.WS4ET.com for further info. Call the Wine Society Answering machine at 865-675-8960 or email reserve@ws4et.com. ### Downtown Recycling Project

The City of Knoxville is partnering with Waste Connections to launch a pilot recycling program in downtown Knoxville. Initially the test program will employ 95-gallon recycling containers. If it's successful the city would look at obtaining or developing a recycling receptacle that fits in with the downtown surroundings.

The pilot effort is aimed primarily at people who work and visit downtown who would like to be able to recycle a can or a newspaper rather than just throw it away. It is not a curbside program for residents who live in the center city.

The city's Downtown Recycling Center at 400 State Street currently serves the recycling needs of downtown area residents.

Containers are located on Union and Wall Streets and in Krutch Park.
